

CIRCLE X RANCH

ucked in the canyons above Malibu and nestled below majestic Boney Mountain, you will find Circle X Ranch. This former Boy Scout camp offers many opportunities for exploration and adventure. Journey to Sandstone Peak, the highest point in the Santa Monica Mountains, and see several of the Channel Islands on a clear day. Enjoy a visit to the Grotto or a creekside picnic. Reserve the Group Camp and listen to coyote songs at night.

Travel one of the many trails that wind through this rare coastal Mediterranean ecosystem. The plants you see here, such as coastal sage scrub and mixed chaparral, are adapted to hot, dry summers and mild, wet winters. Keep an eye out for red shank chaparral, a tree-like shrub with reddish-brown bark, clusters of thread-like leaves, and small bunches of white flowers in July and August.

From the dry, rocky slopes near Sandstone Peak to the lush fern-studded Grotto, Circle X Ranch provides a wide variety of recreational possibilities. Linger here for a while, and experience the ambiance of this secluded mountain retreat.

Trails

Mishe Mokwa Trail to Sandstone Peak 6 miles round trip, strenuous—From the Sandstone Peak Trailhead, go to the Mishe Mokwa Trail Connector. Take the Mishe Mokwa Trail to Split Rock and continue to the Backbone Trail. This fire road ascends to Sandstone Peak, then descends to the trailhead. Only hikers are allowed on the Mishe Mokwa Trail.

Canyon View Trail 1.9 miles, easy to moderate; no bikes—This trail can be accessed from three points: the Group Campground via the Grotto Trail, the trailhead 0.3 mile east of the Ranger Station on Yerba Buena Road, or the Sandstone Peak Trailhead. Enjoy views in every direction.

Mishe Mokwa Trail to Split Rock 3.5 miles round trip, moderate; no bikes, no horses—This trail begins 1/3 mile up the Backbone Trail from the Sandstone Peak Trailhead. Traversing riparian, coastal sage scrub and chaparral ecosystems, the trail offers wonderful views of Carlsle Canyon and Balanced Rock. The oak grove at Split Rock provides a shaded picnic spot.

Backbone Trail to Sandstone Peak 3 miles round trip, strenuous—Starting at the Sandstone Peak Trailhead at an elevation of 2,030 feet, this trail provides views of the Conejo and San Fernando Valleys, as well as the Pacific Coast. Note: The Backbone Trail continues west to Sycamore Canyon and other trails in Point Mugu State Park. Obtain maps before entering the Boney Mountain Wilderness Area.

Grotto Trail 3.5 miles round trip, moderate to strenuous; no bikes, no horses—From the Ranger Station, walk down to the Group Campground where the Grotto Trail begins. This trail traverses hillsides and leads down to the West Fork of the Arroyo Sequit. The trail is downhill from the Ranger Station, which means an uphill return. The Grotto area is rugged terrain; be careful and wear appropriate hiking attire. The last 1/8 mile is through an unimproved streambed and dogs are not allowed.

Please respect trail use designations. To preserve the natural environment and for your safety, please stay on trails.
